MISS MILDRED BUTLER

CAPTAIN AN GUS WALTERS

Cupid at Helm—Captain Angus Walters of the Canadian Bluenose today confessed that more than mere victory over the American Thebaud was his reward in the international fishermen's series . . . for he and Mildred Butler of Halifax will be married and honeymoon with the prize money.

U. S. WARNS JAPAN

Must Not Close China's 'Open Door'

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—The American government today sternly warned Japan against closing the "open door" in China.

In one of the sharpest worded notes dispatched by Washington since World War days, the United States bluntly accused Japan of instituting a sinister campaign to steal America's $150,000,000 annual trade with China.

The note was transmitted to Ambassador Joseph C. Grew at Tokyo, with instructions to present it to the Japanese foreign office.

J. C. Grew

Japan was warned that its ruthless tactics in ignoring American rights and employing discriminatory exchange, trade and custom practices to cut off America's China trade have placed a severe strain on American-Japanese relations.

The stern protest against Japanese interference with American rights and interests in China carried with it three demands. These were:

1—Discontinuance of discriminatory exchange control and of other measures imposed in areas in China under Japanese control which operate directly or indirectly to discriminate against American trade and enterprise.

WARN OF RESTRAINTS

2—Discontinuance of any monopoly or of any preference which would deprive American nationals of the right of undertaking any legitimate trade or industry in China, or of any arrangement which might purport to establish in favor of Japanese interests any general superiority of rights with regard to commercial or economic development in any region of China.

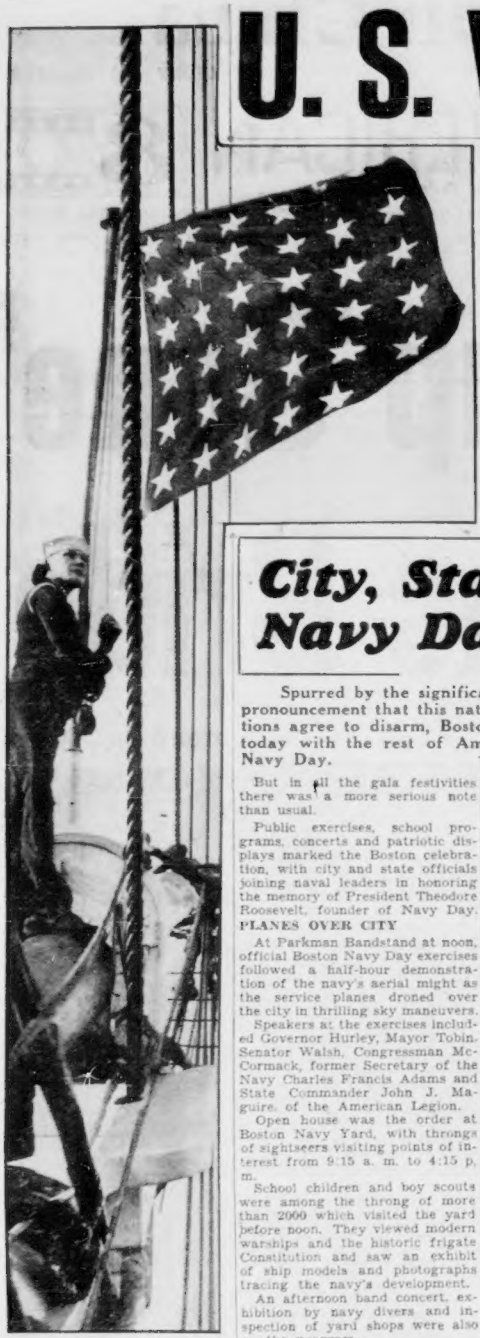

3—Discontinuance of interference by Japanese authorities in China with American property and other rights including such forms of interference as censorship of American mail and telegrams, and restrictions upon residence and travel by Americans and upon American trade and shipping.

Japan, the note accused, has continued to ignore American rights and has interfered with its interests progressively as more areas of China have been occupied by its army, despite constant assurances by the Japanese Government that such was not being done.

WARNING SOUNDED

The note ended with this warning:

"The American government finds it all the more difficult to reconcile itself to a situation in which American nationals must contend with continuing unwarranted interference with their rights at the hands of the Japanese authorities in China and with Japanese actions and policies which operate to deprive American trade and enterprise of equal opportunity in China."

NAVY DAY—A memory is this. Tars of Uncle Sam's Navy unfurl the Union Jack aboard the frigate Constitution at Charlestown Navy Yard . . . a memory for Navy Day of the days when Old Ironsides plowed the seven seas to victory. A memory of the old spirit . . . a promise that that spirit lives on.

Walsh Urges Strong Navy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP)—Senator Walsh (D.) of Massachusetts, chairman of the Senate naval affairs committee, said today an adequate navy was the only sure way of keeping war at a distance.

The senator said in a statement:

"Strong and adequate national defense, coupled with absolute neutrality, is the best and perhaps only assurance of peace.

"On this Navy Day in the midst of the war spirit throughout the world, America should make it definitely known to the world that the navy of the United States will be used for national defense only and never for aggression."

City, State Join Navy Day Fete

Spurred by the significance of President Roosevelt's pronouncement that this nation must arm until other nations agree to disarm, Boston and Massachusetts joined today with the rest of America in the observance of Navy Day.

But in all the gala festivities there was a more serious note than usual.

Public exercises, school programs, concerts and patriotic displays marked the Boston celebration, with city and state officials joining naval leaders in honoring the memory of President Theodore Roosevelt, founder of Navy Day.

PLANES OVER CITY

At Parkman Bandstand at noon, official Boston Navy Day exercises followed a half-hour demonstration of the navy's aerial might as the service planes droned over the city in thrilling sky maneuvers.

Speakers at the exercises included Governor Hurley, Mayor Tobin, Senator Walsh, Congressman McCormack, former Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams and State Commander John J. Maguire, of the American Legion.

Open house was the order at Boston Navy Yard, with throngs of sightseers visiting points of interest from 9:15 a. m. to 4:15 p. m.

School children and boy scouts were among the throng of more than 2000 which visited the yard before noon. They viewed modern warships and the historic frigate Constitution and saw an exhibit of ship models and photographs tracing the navy's development.

An afternoon band concert, exhibition by navy divers and inspection of yard shops were also on the program.

Stressing that a nation is never attacked if its defensive strength foredooms failure, Walsh declared a strong and adequate national defense was the best assurance of peace.

Busy shipyards and plane factories continued at full speed on the accelerated construction program launched under the billion dollar expansion act as the day's observance was in progress.

Death Wins Boy's Hunt for Dad's Gun

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (INS)—Three-year-olds Harry Menger, Jr., has been trying for months past to find his policeman-dad's revolver, which the elder Menger carefully hid every night.

They made a sort of a game out of it and the youngster finally won today but Death was the real winner.

Finding the gun behind a bookcase, little Harry sped gleefully to his sister, Edith, five. Somehow the gun went off a bullet entered Edith's brain and death was almost instantaneous.

Yale Student Found Dead of Gas

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Oct. 27 (AP)—Hugh Comfort, Norman, Okla, a graduate student at Yale University, was found asphyxiated in his room here today.

Dr. Marvin M. Scarbrough, medical examiner, termed the death accidental and said it was caused by escaping illuminating gas.

Malady Is Fatal To Providence Child

Robber Routed In Battle

Slugged from behind by a would-be robber, who used some heavy object, wrapped in a paper bag, as a weapon, a South End chain store manager successfully fought off his assailant today.

In the rough-and-tumble fight, which lasted several minutes, the store manager, Daniel P. Walsh, 50, of Canterbury street, Roslindale, gave the bandit a severe beating.

Walsh, himself, was treated at City hospital for his injuries, including lacerations of the scalp.

He said the man who attacked him was about 25 to 28 years old, wearing a light raincoat over a dark suit.

This man entered the store, Tremont street and Massachusetts avenue, soon after opening time, pretending to be a customer and ordering several articles of merchandise, Walsh told police.

Then, as Walsh turned his back, the slugger swung a paper bag he was holding and crashed whatever weapon it contained on Walsh's head.

When the slugger finally broke away and fled, his raincoat was stained with blood from Walsh's scalp wound, the storeman said.

Angus Wins Bride, but--- Where's Cup Race Cash?

ALL OVER NOW—Memory of the triumphant trip across the continent is this picture . . . taken when love was new for Princess Baba of Sarawak and her handsome wrestling husband, Bob Gregory. Now, it is announced, they will separate . . . she trying for a film career in London, he staying in America.

International Fishermen's Race trophy, $1000 silver cup, reported mysteriously "lost" in Boston.

Captain Angus Walters of Bluenose admits love has him "hove to on a lee shore."

Race committee short of cash to pay prize money to racing skippers.

Copyright, 1938, by Boston Evening American

Man alive, things happened fast today to Skipper Angus Walters of the Bluenose.

First of all, he admitted in an exclusive interview that his real reward for winning the international fishermen's races was the smile of his bride-to-be, a pretty dark-haired lass back home in Halifax.

Heretofore Cap'n Angus' romance had been a secret, even from members of his crew.

In a mighty rosy mood, the doughty Nova Scotia skipper was, when he came ashore in Boston today, bent on collecting his big silver cup and his $3000 prize money. But disillusioning indeed was the situation which confronted him at race committee headquarters, in the offices of the Maritime Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce.

TROPHY MISSING

In the first place, George D. Hall, moving spirit of the International Fishermen's Race Corporation, mopped his brow and blurted out the news that the

Cancer Boy May Get Well

CHICAGO, Oct. 27 (INS)—Science today appeared to have turned death aside and started Johnny English on the road to recovery.

The 14-year-old boy won widespread sympathy recently by his cheerful smile in the face of what was believed to be a swiftly approaching and painful death.

An ardent baseball fan, he was visited by several members of the Chicago Cubs team and later received long distance telephone calls from Shirley Temple and from Helen Louise Tobin, daughter of Mayor Tobin of Boston.

When taken to the hospital, the youngster's malady was diagnosed as neurogenic sarcoma, a rare form of cancer that started near his kidney and was spreading toward the spine. The disease was inevitably fatal, doctors said, but began X-ray treatments as a forlorn hope.

Today Johnny was out of bed and walking around the hospital wards.

His physician refused to discuss the boy's condition and his chances for eventual recovery, but hospital attaches expressed the conviction he is definitely improving.

Princess Baba Quits Her Wrestler Husband

Princess Baba of Sarawak and her wrestler husband, handsome Bob Gregory of England, agreed today to separate—their dreams of digging deep into gullible America's pot of gold still unfulfilled.

"Yes, it's true, we're going to separate," Gregory admitted at Los Angeles, where he awaited new bouts and she a long-deferred chance in the movies.

"The Princess will sail for England Sunday," the catch-as-catch-can British wrestler stated. "She thinks she can gain success in motion pictures back in London. There are no hard feelings."

Gregory made no comment on the reported birth of a son, coyly acknowledged by the princess on the west coast in July in the statement:

"No one knows it yet."

Thus went glimmering the dream of sports promoters to put wrestling on a social and romantic plane.

For nearly a year, the couple had toured the United States, with wrestler Bob pictured as the loving pride of Britain and his really pretty young bride as the girl who "gave up title and family for love."

Valerie Brooke was her name, and she was the daughter of Sir Charles Brooke, the only white rajah in the world.

After a courtship frowned on by her parents, Valerie and Bob were married and for an American tour, the 17-year-old girl became "Princess Baba."

After her father cut off her $3000 yearly allowance, he also revealed she is no princess at all and that Baba is only her nickname.

Fresh from a European marriage, the couple stormed Boston. At first, Princess Baba wouldn't countenance her pretty husband wrestling, but Promoter Paul Bowser smoothed the way.

Doris Kenyon To Wed Lasker

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor International News Service

(Copyright, 1938, by International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 27—One of Doris Kenyon's close friends in Hollywood has received word that Doris and Albert D. Lasker, former head of the U. S. Shipping Board and owner of Lord and Thomas advertising agency, will be married in New York this week.

According to our informant, the ceremony will be performed in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Will Hays. The bride and groom will sail for England on Sunday, spending their honeymoon in London and Paris.

At one time one of Hollywood's leading motion picture actresses, Doris was married to Milton Sills, famous star of silent days, and his death ended one of Hollywood's really idyllic romances.

A talented singer as well as an actress, Doris in more recent years has appeared frequently on the concert stage.

She was introduced to Lasker by the Will Hayses.

FORMER star of silent pictures, Doris Kenyon is to be bride of Albert D. Lasker, former head of the U. S. Shipping Board and now member of Lord and Thomas Advertising Agency.

Mate Drenched Her, Says Wife

Articles found in the rear compartment of the family car figured in testimony offered in Salem probate court today by Mrs. Mae Hastings, Salem, in support of her uncontested petition for divorce from Hurdon Hastings, Boston.

"I frequently found beer bottles and hairpins in the back of the car," Mrs. Hastings told Judge John A. Costello," and very often women called my home inquiring for 'Harry' Hasting.

"I myself neither use hairpins nor drink beer."

Mrs. Hastings testified the couple were married in Scranton, Pa., on June 13, 1932, and moved to New Hampshire early in 1935.

"Everything went all right until we came to New Hampshire," she testified, "but soon after our arrival there my husband began tormenting and insulting me in the presence of company.

"He was watering the lawn one day when he turned the hose on me.

"I went inside and changed my clothes and when I came outdoors again he drenched me a second time.

"After we moved to Salem in December, 1937, he began staying out late at night. When he came home he used to slap me and twist my arm."

Judge Costello took the petition under advisement when informed by counsel for Mrs. Hastings that her husband had made an agreement to pay her $20 weekly after they separated alte in 1937.

Slaying Admitted By Mother of Four

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Florence Peters, of Waunakee, 38-year-old mother of four children, admitted in Superior court today she killed her first husband, Henry Kessenich, by poisoning eight years ago and attempted to take the life of her second husband, John Peters, last July.

Lynn Students Plead for Girl In Tuition Case

Lynn English high school classmates rallied today to the defense of pretty, platinum blonde Margaret "Peggy" Cort, 17, victim, they charged, of a precise bit of hair-splitting by Lynn's school committee, but it looked as if the protest was in vain.

Her dismissal from school, where she is a senior, was ordered by the committee because her parents live in Irvington, N. J., and can't pay a $139 tuition fee.

The seniors said they had no argument about this, but they did question the the committee's wisdom in ruling at the same time that Shirley Atherton, 16, daughter of [illegible]al residents of Swampscott, [illegible]t complete her senior year w[illegible]ut tuition payment.

PLEAD FOR CLASSMATE

"We don't dislike Shirley," declared a class spokesmen. "She's one of the most popular girls in school.

"But so is Peggy and we can't see why she couldn't be treated with the same leniency."

Peggy herself tried her best to conceal her disappointment as she admitted she was afraid she was out of luck.

"I did want to graduate with my class and I'm going to finish out the school week. Then I guess I'll have to go back to New Jersey.

"Father left here some time ago to go back to his old job. He left me with friends in Brookline street and we all though that would eliminate any question about my legal residence."

PLAN APPEAL TO MAYOR

"It was certainly a queer decision," remarked the same spokesman. "Why, Peggy is more of a Lynn resident than Shirley.

"They say Shirley is a legal resident of Lynn because the Lynn-Swampscott line cuts right through her house and her bedroom is on the Lynn side. She has a brother and a sister, whose bedrooms are on the Swampscott side. So they have to go to school in Swampscott."

Students were undecided just what they could do. Some suggested that they circulate a petition. Others proposed an appeal to the mayor.

"It probably won't do any good," ventured one. "That school committee will probably stick to it to save their face."

23-Ounce Baby Fights for Life

CHICAGO, Oct. 27 (AP)—A 23-ounce baby girl, one of the smallest babies ever born in Chicago, clung to a slender thread of life today in an incubator at St. Bernard's Hospital.

The infant, born Tuesday night to Mrs. Jean Freckelton, 24, was given a "10 per cent chance to live" by Dr. Max Bernauer, who is in charge of the case.

Chauffeur Ends Spree; Returns $200,000 Gems

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (INS)—Suffering the dual pangs of conscience and a man-sized hangover, George Fleming and the $200,000 worth of jewels he stole from Mrs. Edward N. Townsend, Jr., his socially-registered employer, were both in custody of police today.

Fleming blamed alimony for his troubles.

The Flemings are separated and Fleming recently was ordered to pay his estranged spouse 50 per cent of his earnings. Sad and bitter, he took to the cup that cheers.

Mrs. Townsend, who employs Fleming as a chauffeur, didn't know about his state of mind when she entrusted him with her jewel case and its valuable contents Tuesday.

Instead of delivering them to Mrs. Townsend's hotel, he went to a pawnshop and got $75 for a $2000 ring. Then he rounded up a few pals and set about throwing a party.

"If I have to give my wife half of what I earn from now on it will come to exactly nothing," said Fleming.

He seemed to be almost happy about it.

IDENTITY SOUGHT

Authorities today sought the identity of a 48-year-old man who collapsed and died at the exit of the Kenmore subway station. The victim was taken to the Southern mortuary awaiting identification.

BUT FISHERMEN MIGHT DRINK IT!

MIAMI, Fla., (INS)—Science has brought to light a fishing tree. Fruit of the arenga pinata, which grows in tropical climate, produces a liquid called "hell water." Poured into a stream, the liquid paralyzes fish long enough for them to be caught by hand, but does not make them inedible. A boon for lazy anglers!

Bear Victim May Lose Eye

CLEVELAND, Oct. 27 (AP)—Slender little Julia Zemnick, 21, will survive a vicious attack by a polar bear in a Brookside zoo cage, doctors said today, but it may be necessary to remove her left eye.

Pronounced in critical condition from loss of blood and multiple injuries, the attractive Federal Art Project worker rallied after a blood transfusion in which Clyde Henderson, 33, high school teacher and friend of the aspiring artist, was the donor.

Perched on a ledge overlooking the cage, Miss Zemnick yesterday was sketching the 600-pound beast, called "Silver," when she stumbled into the cage. For nearly 20 minutes "Silver" clawed the girl.

One eye gouged, her scalp ripped to shreds and wounded about the face and neck, the girl was rescued by zoo attendants.

As Keeper Edward Hagen lifted the girl in his arms, she whispered: "Tell everyone I want to live."

Crocker Heads Fund Bureau

Attorney Frank W. Crocker, today took over duties as chairman of the speakers' bureau for Greater Boston's 1939 Community Fund campaign.

"We plan to bring home to all residents of this great area the importance of supporting the 1939 drive," Crocker stated. "This will be done by supplying a competent speaker will tell our story or show motion pictures of the work which is being done."

Pleads Innocent In Kidnap Case

Sought for two years as the alleged kidnaper of Roland Robichaud, a Lawrence taxicab driver, Anthony Farschuk today pleaded not guilty to that charge in federal court here. Farschuk was returned to Boston yesterday following his arrest in Kenora, Ontario.

Farschuk pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him was transporting a stolen car across the Massachusetts line. Judge Hugh D. McLellan held him in $20,000 bail.

Jail Soldier In Dope Case

Francis L. Cooney, 34, a Fort Devens soldier, was sentenced to a year and a day in federal court today after he pleaded guilty to possession of marihuana.

Mrs. Margaret Herbert

Federal narcotic agents arrested him and Mrs. Margaret Herbert, 28, of Shirley, in a cafe in that town last May after having allegedly found a can of the drug in his locker at the fort and a quantity under a mattress in the girl's bedroom.

Mrs. Herbert, mother of two children, was released in her own recognizances for further investigation of the case when arraigned on May 23 before U. S. Commissioner Harry N. Guterman.

Chivalry Fails 'Runaway Girl'

Adventure and wanderlust suddenly lost their appeal to Isabelle Michel, 17, of Dudley st., Roxbury, today.

For Isabelle was stranded in New York after running away from home and she found police, most sympathetic in a similar escapade a year and one-half ago, entirely lacking in the chivalry to which she had become accustomed.

Thinking she knew the ropes as a result of her previous adventure, she walked into the West 47th street police station and encountered a familiar figure, Detective Fred Russell.

"Hello," she said, similingly, "don't you remember me? I'm the girl you turned over to the Traveler's Aid Society."

Russell paused, thought a moment and then recalled the circumstances.

"What's the trouble?" he asked.

"Well, I'm here again and I've spent all my money," said Isabelle. "I want you to send me to the Traveler's Aid so I can get back home. They treated me swell the last time until the folks sent for me."

"Swell, eh?" said Russell, turning to a patrolman. "Officer, take this girl to the Children's Society and see that she doesn't have a swell time."

Over her wailing protests that she was a "traveler" the girl was taken to the Children's Society and her family notified.

Russell said the girl told him she had taken $10 when she left home and spent $5 on clothing and a suitcase. When she reached New York yesterday her remaining funds were exhausted by two meals and two movies.

Her mother, Mrs. Mary Maloney, expressed relief when she learned the girl, second of five children, had been found.

"She's a good girl," Mrs. Maloney said, "but she worries us when she goes away like that. I think I'll send her to live with my sister when she comes back."

Senate Probers Seek Georgia Data

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP)—The Senate campaign expenditures committee asked its Georgia investigators today to report on charges of primary election irregularities in that state.

Probe of Newburgh Asked by Lehman

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 27 (AP) -- Governor Lehman today asked officials of the city of Newburgh, N. Y., and Orange County to confer with him next Monday regarding a federal grand jury request for an investigation of conditions in Newburgh, where illicit liquor stills were found.

The grand jury last Monday indicted 45 persons, including several operating in Newburgh, on tax evasion charges in connection with an illegal liquor ring which operated in six cities, including Boston.

Wins Room Service

SALINAS, Cal., Oct. 27 (AP)—Claustrophobia was advanced successfully here by a retired physician as a reason why he should receive probation from a one-year jail sentence.

Dr. Jaime de Angulo, 54, pleaded guilty to grand theft, but asked probation because Claustrophobia—a morbid dread of being in closed rooms or narrow places—made jail confinement hazardous for him. The court granted his plea.

Johnson Plans World's Fair Stand

One of the largest roadside restaurants in the world is planned for the New York World's Fair by Howard Johnson, head of the chain of ice cream shops and restaurants, in the building program for 1939 announced today.

In addition, new stands are planned for New England and three restaurants for Miami, Fla. The New York building is to seat 600 patrons on Queens boulevard, Kew Gardens, Long Island, with parking space for 1000 automobiles.

KILLED CLEANING GUN

Boost in Tunnel Toll Is Urged

A boost of a nickel in the toll rate was urged today by the Boston municipal research bureau to reduce the annual deficit in operation of the Sumner tunnel.

At the same time the bureau recommended that three-[illegible] of the deficit remaining after the increased toll should be borne by the state.

"Barring a decrease in traffic volume," the bureau declared, "the new toll of 20 cents would raise revenues about $275,000 a year, cutting the annual deficit in half."

State responsibility for a portion of the deficit is based on a [illegible] purporting to show that [illegible] per cent of tunnel [illegible] from points outside the [illegible].

Hague Loses to CIO in Court

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 27 (AP)—The CIO and allied organizations won a federal court order today restraining Mayor Frank Hague and Jersey City officials from "deporting" members, or interfering with their rights to speak in public parks, distribute leaflets and carry placards.

The decision was handed down by Circuit Court Judge W[illegible] Clark, who as district judge sat at the trial last spring of an injunction suit brought by the Committee for Industrial Organization, the American Civil Liberties Union and several co-plaintiffs.

Filing of the suit followed interruption of the CIO's attempt last November to distribute literature and organize workers in Jersey City—a move which Hague called "invasion." Police arrested [illegible] organizers and sympathizers and escorted scores of others from the city.

HOPES FOR APPEAL

In his opinion, which Judge Clark expressed hope would be appealed, he recommended "a modified form of public censorship"—a requirement that an advance copy of a speech must be furnished to authorities in cases where the particular persons applying for permits had on previous occasions addressed similar [illegible] with resulting disturbances.

Judge Clark's decision did not [illegible] the fact that Hague had [illegible] at great length [illegible] [illegible].

The Judge [illegible] of the word Communist was [illegible] of [illegible] to give the Communists any "free advertising," a thought he expressed by quoting a British statesman who expressed his own aversion to "making martyrs out of cowards."

FORBIDS INTERFERENCE

The decision forbids:

1—Interference with the plaintiffs' right to be in and go about Jersey City.

2—Interference with the plaintiffs' right to carry "admittedly innocuous placards."

4—Interference with the plaintiff's right to speak in public parks, for which they sought permits.

Its application to deportations Judge Clark's decision could be summarized thus:

The power of deportation exists in the nation alone and can be exercised only against aliens. It is not a right pertaining to states, much less to cities.

U. S. Will Arm, Says President

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP)—The United States, through President Roosevelt, served notice on the world today it would protect the Western Hemisphere from foreign interference and, while desiring disarmament, would not disarm "while neighbor nations arm to the teeth."

The President in his first pronouncement on American foreign policy since the Czechoslovakian crisis made a virtually precedented [illegible] condemnation of nations which employ force [illegible] repression as instruments of national policy.

He declared that the governments of foreign nations must not threaten [illegible] [illegible] useful purpose is served [illegible] either to the American people or the peoples of other nations that the American government in its policies, its practices and its [illegible] [illegible] deception.

"To do so," he said, "is of necessity, an attack on the American system of constitutional representative government itself."

The President voiced his views last night in an address broadcast from the White House to the eighth annual national forum.

The Chief Executive followed his predecessor, Herbert Hoover, who urged the United States to initiate resumption of world economic conferences, and Viscount Halifax, the British foreign minister.

Viscount Halifax, in a broadcast from London urged the United States to join hands with Great Britain in establishing world peace.

The President featured armaments competition, but asserted that until foreign nations give something more than verbal assurances that they desire disarmament the United States must arm.

"It is becoming increasingly clear," he said, "that peace by fear has no higher or more enduring quality than peace by the sword.

"There can be no peace if the reign of law is to be replaced by a recurrent sanctification of sheer force. There can be no peace if national policy adopts as a deliberate instrument the threat of war.

"There can be no peace if humble men and women are not free to think their own thoughts, to express their own feelings, to worship God."

N. E. Jews Ask Palestine Aid

Jews of New England, stirred by a mass demonstration of 2500 in Faneuil Hall, today added their pleas to the growing demands of citizens throughout the United States for a rapid settlement of the Palestine crisis.

DR. SOLOMON GOLDMAN

"It is part of the present world problem" declared Rabbi Solomon Goldman, president of American Zionists. "The crisis in Palestine can be solved only if the world of freedom does not capitulate to the jungle of tyranny."

Do you hold your Friends?

. . . are you the Man who Cares?

MANY a book has been written on how to win friends. But a sentence tells how to HOLD friends. Treat them as loyally and royally as you would have them treat you.

Treat them to Carstairs and you treat them with the highest consideration. For here is a whiskey as rich and true as friendship itself. A skillful blend of several selected whiskies, the youngest of which is four years old.

The name CARSTAIRS has been making friends since 1788. Carstairs Whiskey of today is steadily adding to those friendships.

The Man who Cares says—CARSTAIRS

Push Dies Probe Despite Rebuke

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP)—The Dies committee, although rebuked by President Roosevelt and asked by two of its members to halt work, decided today to go ahead with its investigation of un-American activities.

A majority of the seven members have agreed to proceed, and Chairman Dies (D) of Texas overruling the suggestion of Representatives Dempsey (D) of New Mexico and Healey (D) of Massachusetts that hearings be stopped until after the November elections.

President Roosevelt had accused the committee in sharp language, of allowing itself to become a political forum.

MARTIN IS EXCUSED

Dies said that he and Representatives Mosier (D) of Ohio, Mason (R) of Illinois and Thomas (R) of New Jersey had voted to proceed. Representative Starnes (D) of Alabama was not reached.

Opening today's session, the chairman excused Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers' Union, from appearing and began questioning J. H. [illegible], state capitol reporter of the Lansing, Mich., State Journal.

Martin had asked that he be excused because it would not contribute to industrial peace for him to "reopen old wounds" before a committee which he said had unwittingly engaged in partisan [illegible].

The committee had wanted to question him about alleged Communist activity in the labor movement [illegible].

Pledges of support in this state to the federal ... [illegible]

"An energetic and resourceful Democratic governor can and will find means of aiding our industries to the fullest extent possible while a Republican governor would accomplish nothing," Curley said.

CANDIDATES SPEAK

"Do you want good, clean, decent, honest government in Massachusetts, or do you want ballyhoo, dictatorial rule and broken promises?" [illegible]

"With their usual vagueness, Mr. Saltonstall and his spokesmen are promising that they will rehabilitate our industries and thereby create jobs. They neglect to say that Republicans destroyed millions of jobs from 1929 to 1933 and that a Democratic administration is repairing damage done to our economic and industrial system by blundering Republicans."

Leaders Join in Drive On Politics-in-Relief

TAKE POLITICS OUT OF RELIEF

Citizens, before you vote, ask these questions of all candidates for Congress:

"Do you stand for the principle that there must be no political control or influence in the handling of relief funds, pump-priming money, agricultural benefit money or social security money?

"Do you favor the principle of having all such public expenditures supervised by a non-partisan, non-political board employing civil service personnel?

"Do you pledge yourself to work for the proper measures to put these principles into practical operation?"

Leaders in all parts of the nation today renewed attacks on the rule of relief administration by politics and pledged themselves to support the drive to oust selfish manipulation of welfare funds.

Some of their comments follow:

"On this question of taking administration of relief from the Ickes, Hopkins crowd I can't express myself too strongly.

"The proposal to administer relief through a non-partisan commission is a real American plan for a difficult American problem."

[illegible] C. Glassburn of Uniontown, Pa., Republican nominee for Congress:

"If elected to Congress I will support a bill making it a crime to distribute relief and other public funds for political advantage, and, in addition thereto, making it a crime to distribute clothing made on sewing projects for political advantage; and, further, making it a crime to solicit funds from any person employed on any federal project.

"I am in favor of placing the employes of relief and WPA under strict civil service and for the appointment of a non-partisan board to supervise relief and social security payments."

"To me it is maddening, in these days of national distress, that any politician, high or low, could be so fool as to use the poor people's own money to weld them into a political machine.

"One of my first activities in Congress will be to help remove, forever, the distribution of bread-money from the hands of partisan politicians and place it in the hands of a competent, sympathetic non-political commission."

Charles Wade Snook, Republican candidate for Congress from California:

"It is unnecessary for any voter to request such a pledge from me because it is part of my platform to administer relief for the benefit of the needy and not for the benefit of politicians.

"Legislation penalizing use of relief money in politics has been voted down by the Democratic majority in the Senate on three occasions.

"This type of political immorality is repulsive to me and any legislation tending to stop such practices will receive my wholehearted support."

[illegible]

"Absolutely I stand for the principle that there must be no political control in the handling of relief funds in any form.

"Without qualification I pledge myself to work for the vote for proper legislation to correct the evils that have grown up in the handling of these vast funds in the absence of laws that specifically make them criminal offenses."

[illegible] from Wis[illegible]:

"I would welcome the opportunity to vote for national legislation that would bring about non-partisan handling of relief and public works funds by a civil service personnel and I would be glad to sign such a pledge.

"Throughout the gubernatorial campaign of 1936—when I was a candidate for governor—I strenuously opposed political mishandling of public works expenditures by the Democratic and progressive administrations."

'Quake' a Meteor

FORTLAND, Me., Oct. 27—Robert M. Dole, weather bureau meteorologist, today attributed shocks reported in several Maine towns to explosion of some meteor some 30 or 40 miles above the earth's surface.

Many persons reported they ran from their homes fearful that an earthquake was in progress.

[illegible] OTHER power- [illegible] WILL NOT COME TO US?

[illegible] ANY EMERGENCY?

THESE ARE THE QUESTIONS the people of the United States are asking on Navy Day and EVERY DAY.

And the ANSWER was given by Admiral William D. Leahy, Chief of Naval Operations, in his radio broadcast inaugurating Navy Week:

"In this great crisis of human history when maps are being remade it is well for Americans to keep in mind that the Navy is dedicated to the task of PRESERVING AND DEFENDING our national policies and possessions.

"We propose to defend WHAT IS OURS and to that end have recommended a defense ADEQUATE TO REPEL ANY SINGLE AGGRESSOR. This strength should spare our country a [illegible] but IF RIGHTEOUS PEACE CANNOT BE MAINTAINED THEN YOUR FLEET MUST BE READY."

LET THE PEOPLE dwell upon the significance of that recommendation.

It can only mean that in the competent opinion and trained judgment of our naval authorities our existing naval establishment DOES NOT MEASURE UP TO OUR PRESENT PERIL.

The President of the United States has CONFIRMED that opinion and judgment by declaring that he will shortly submit to Congress a program of naval expansion which will be ADEQUATE FOR THE DEFENSE OF THE COUNTRY.

We are not asked to build a navy to satisfy our PRIDE.

We are not asked to build for AGGRESSION.

The Human Side of the News

America Faces War Danger

By EDWIN C. HILL

Copyright 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

IT ALWAYS seemed to this onlooker that the Chinese regard for face-saving expressed ancient wisdom. It is [illegible] on the Human Side of the News and it frequently is an unrecognized issue in our Occidental civilization, if we may call it such at this [illegible] moment.

Many a deadlock has been ended by both sides finding a way to back out gracefully without the humiliation of having to admit they were wrong.

It is quite possible that a chance for face-saving all around may end the quarrel between the utilities and the government and bring a new upsurge of investment and employment, with industry swinging into midstream with the breaking of the [illegible].

The beginning of such a rapprochement [illegible] and I have been told by a source both informed and [illegible] that this is happening because a way out has been found for both the Administration, both [illegible] and the [illegible].

NATIONAL DEFENSE offers [illegible] face-saving formula. [illegible] have at last made a [illegible] to the [illegible] integration and [illegible] of power plants and systems in any hour of [illegible] emergency. Technicians [illegible] plants for [illegible] systems in which [illegible] given area are crippled.

TENNESSEE'S GIANT NORRIS DAM

Is It Vulnerable to Sabotage?

The objective of [illegible] power to which the utilities have been building for years is a [illegible] supreme national effort [illegible] war or peace. It has been [illegible] partially realized. And now the pressure of world events makes us realize that we may face tragic ineffectiveness unless it is realized.

This, if my information is correct, is the explanation of what appears to be the beginning of a better understanding between the Administration and the utilities and it offers a heaven-sent opportunity for face-saving all around.

Newspaper headlines should have a unifying and heartening effect in this country these days. Nazi Germany is blazing with anger at our proposal to maintain adequate defense.

England has been warned that air rearmament is [illegible] and unless all signs fail Germany and perhaps the entire [illegible] in the Orient will soon [illegible] in more territory.

Through propaganda, spying, [illegible] incessant agitation and [illegible] they have gained more [illegible] South America. We may have to [illegible] the Monroe Doctrine.

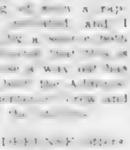

We are privileged to view these [illegible] calmly and keep clear of the world [illegible] of madness [illegible] we are not any [illegible] to protect [illegible] we have any sense.

THE GERMAN SPY [illegible] sabotage [illegible] Modern wars are not only [illegible] but they are fought with [illegible] and sabotage as surely as with planes or guns.

It [illegible] to be a matter for great [illegible] if we are not [illegible] to have a [illegible] of our potentially marvelous and effective power system.

'Bugs' Baer Says:

PROGRESS today consists of anything that will hurt a man. Invent a new machine gun and they'll put your name up in electric lights with double yolks.

THE BARTENDER of international foxins is mixing another and more powerful mustard gas that will broil a hippopotamus in [illegible].

ALL SPIES carry big spoons
And have noses like bird dogs.

A NEW SMELL in the house [illegible] can be a threat of war. [illegible]

THE SPY must be able to tell the difference between the [illegible] and [illegible] cooking for supper.

FUTURE peace conferences will bring chemists to the front as diplomats carrying samples of their [illegible] and pass around their little bottles. Everybody will sniff. When a nation inhales [illegible] perfume that [illegible] boundaries it has found an ally.

Pa Runyon's Recipe For Happy Marriage

By DAMON RUNYON

Copyright, 1938, by King Features Syndicate, Inc. International Copyright and All Other Rights Reserved.

OUR OLD MAN used to say that if he had a pile of money he would set up a series of prizes to be awarded annually and in perpetuity, to American couples who had made the greatest success of marriage. He had it all figured out.

He said he would have ten prizes, starting at $5,000 to be awarded to the couple that had made the greatest five-year success, then moving to $10,000 to the most successful ten-year couple and so on up to $50,000 for the most successful half century team.

He said that in addition he would offer his prize-winning couples chairs as instructors in an institute of matrimonial technology that he proposed establishing in connection with his awards. He said that this institute of his would be devoted to teaching the arts and sciences calculated to promote success in marriage.

He said he would accept as students in his institute only couples already married, who found they could not make a go of matrimony and length of marriage would be no bar to anybody. Our Old Man said he knew a number of couples right there in our old home town of Pueblo who had been married 10, 15, and even 20 years, but had not learned the secret of success in their marital state.

SOMEBODY ASKED him if he did not think that couples that had been engaged unsuccessfully in matrimony that long were not hopeless, and he said no.

He was asked why he did not include in his plans the instruction of young persons contemplating matrimony and he said, well, at that stage love enters into the matter, and he did not think there was any sense in trying to teach persons in love anything about marriage.

He said that the chances of any marriage being successful was about 8 to 5 against, but he thought that after his institute of matrimonial technology got to functioning, the odds would be reduced in the course of time to an even money bet.

OUR OLD MAN was asked if he did not think love was the most important feature of success in marriage and he said not at all. He said that he would be willing to bet that half his prizes would go to couples who had made a success of matrimony on a minimum of love and a maximum of mutual respect and co-operation.

Our old man said that it was a matter of deep regret to him that there are persons in this world who would lie about the holy state of matrimony for 50,000 boffoes. He said it would be a fine thing, would it not, if after he had handed Mr. and Mrs. Etc. a large bag of currency in reward for their 50 years of matrimonial success that Mr. Etc. had slugged the old ever-loving with the bag going down the steps for not agreeing to give him 50 per cent of the take.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

WHAT DID YOU REALLY say when you [illegible] ... [illegible]

[illegible]

BUT WHAT WERE YOU SAYING WITH YOUR TRUE SELF ... WITH YOUR TRUE VOICE WHICH SPEAKS INSIDE YOU AND WHICH NO ONE BUT YOU EVER HEARS.

You weren't mouthing polite [illegible] with that inner voice, were you? Anything but! Wager you anything your inner comment ... your real words ... ran something like this: "Contemptible cat. Women ... why they let a heel like that [illegible]"

Or like this: "[illegible] that terrible woman now! I might have known she would pop up and spoil my day!"

YOUR REAL WORDS ... [illegible] are [illegible] deny them. YOU don't say hateful things like that ... [illegible], conceited, [illegible] things ... OH, DON'T YOU?

Take it from me, brother and sister, you'd be surprised to know what you think. You'd not only be surprised, but you'd probably be changed for life IF YOU COULD HEAR YOUR REAL SELF TALKING FOR JUST FIVE MINUTES.

[illegible] are you've never [illegible] your real self, never heard your [illegible] voice. For years you've seen and listened to a self that doesn't exist save in your own imagination. A [illegible] self THAT HAS NO MORE RELATIONSHIP TO YOUR FANTASTIC REALITY THAN A BUTTERFLY HAS TO A BALLOON! And one glimpse of your TRUE SELF would probably do more for you than a century of sermons.

We never really know ourselves ... we can never change or save ourselves ... until we have seen that TRUE SELF.

We must strip away all our home made fantasies ... our poses and pretenses ... before we can know what we're all about ... before we can see the secret roots of the amazing things we do or leave undone.

ALL OF WHICH came to me when I watched John Beal last night in Victor Victor's tremendous new play, "SOLILOQUY." "Soliloquy" is as old as life itself in its theme, but utterly new on the stage. It's a story of a man's inner thoughts, a spineless little clerk who became a killer because he had never known what he was all about ... because he had lived in dreams and never faced his own true thoughts or desires.

Now, in this play, you see him as he never saw himself, for, as he acts his part, a sound track gives you his inner voice. THE VOICE OF THAT SECRET SELF WHICH REVEALED THE TRUTH ABOUT HIM.

Go and see that play! Then I dare you turn your ears inward to your own reality. You'll be surprised!

FALL HOUSECLEANING? Then you'll be interested in the technical fine points in picking out those new drapes for the front parlor, the correct shade for the bridge lamps and the most effective upholstery to go with your rugs.

It's all part of the "Modern Home Fashions and Accessories" course, sponsored by the State Department of Education in the Division of University Extension.

Decorator Agnes F. Fennelly is the instructor of the class which opens this evening at the Extension Center, Newbury and Exeter streets.

Unless you want to give your family and your guests acute [illegible], Miss Fennelly advises against "mixing stars and stripes." If your drapes are striped, don't place a flowered chintz-covered chair near them.

If the rug is heavily designed, keep the window coverings [illegible]. Elegant drapery isn't effective with modern [illegible] chairs either. And don't put furniture with [illegible] in a room with a Cape Cod motif!

Those who tasted say it's a "knock-out" punch.

ALTHOUGH he's still a bachelor and admits it's just a theory, Professor R. [illegible] Noyes at Brown University thinks it's a better bet for a young man to marry his boss's secretary than his daughter.

New York Cavalcade by Louis Sobol

THE TITLE OF THIS COLUMN is "New York Cavalcade" or, as some of my out-of-town papers prefer it, "Voice of New York." Obviously, then, I am expected to write about what goes on in New York and this I try most faithfully to do. Occasionally, however, I drift from my subject and recently I permitted Jack Lawlor, of San Francisco, to convince me that Buffalo Bill's ex-partner, Buck Taylor, killed Billy the Kid.

LAWLOR'S INSISTENCE that Taylor killed the Kid is bringing into this office from 20 to 30 letters daily of protest. Now the venerable Charles K. [illegible], Western authority and author, writes in and he says in part:

"I believe it my duty to warn you not to accept Jack Lawlor's story of the death of Billy the Kid which, according to him, never has been truthfully told.

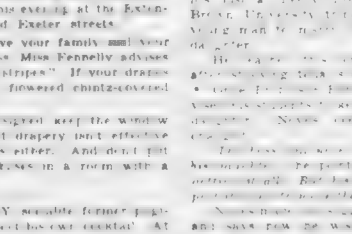

"According to Lawlor's statement in your column, it seems Buck quarreled with Bill and 'quit him cold and went back to his beloved plains of the Southwest where he took up the trail of Billy the Kid and got him.'

"I HAPPENED to meet William Bonney, better known as Billy the Kid, in 1877 when I was punching cattle in the Texas Panhandle at the head of the Clear Fork of the Brazos. He was six months younger than myself and in our association of several months, we became friends. He begged me to join his outfit. He already had a record as cattle rustler, card sharp and gunman. Of course I declined his overtures as I stated in my biographical sketch of the Kid published in Western Trails Magazine in August 1937.

"Billy the Kid long had been trailed by Pat Garrett, a famous Texas Ranger, as well as by law officers of New Mexico, and Garrett finally discovered his whereabouts and resolved to take him dead or alive. Billy had found refuge in the home of Pete Maxwell at Fort Sumner and on the night of July 14, 1881, Garrett hid behind Billy's bed and when he appeared shot him dead. Billy's body lies in an unmarked grave in an open field not far removed from the spot where avenging justice overtook him.

"WELL, NOW isn't it odd that Buck Taylor should have left Buffalo Bill in San Francisco in 1883 and gone in search of Billy the Kid who had been killed two years previously? How does your correspondent Lawlor explain that?

"I was in San Francisco engaged in reportorial work on the staff of the Chronicle in 1883 and I have no recollection whatever of Buffalo having played a theatrical engagement there that year. I spent several years along the frontier of Texas and New Mexico and I confess that I never heard of Buck Taylor. I doubt if Buck Taylor ever existed. Let Lawlor give you what he calls the true story of Billy the Kid's slaying. Let's hear all these hitherto unknown facts."

Chilton Club Dance To Honor Three Girls

By BETTY ALDEN

THE INVITATIONS are due any time now, so, [illegible] nothing has appeared in the papers [illegible], we don't feel that we are letting the [illegible] or spoiling anyone's surprise by announcing that a new party has been added to the already crowded schedule of November's [illegible] affairs . . .

On Wednesday evening, November 16, Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKay Frost of Dover are giving a dinner dance at the exclusive Chilton Club . . . It will be a triple-barreled affair, honoring a debutante from each of the last three seasons . . . Mary McBirney Ryerson, Mrs. Frost's niece, who comes on from Chicago to make her official bow to Boston society at the party . . . Sharing honors with her will be Joan Stockton Shaw, who was presented to society last winter, and her sister Rosemary, a debutante of the previous season . . . They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. S. Parkman Shaw of [illegible] . . . Miss Ryerson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ryerson of Chicago . . .

Dance Also on Club Calendar

A varied calendar of events was planned at the annual meeting of the Mary Frances Rooney School Association held recently at the Hotel Vendome.

A harvest party on November 4 will be held under the direction of Caroline Jenkins. Then the formal dancing party follows on November 18 in the Empire ballroom of the Hotel Vendome, with Ann Messitt as the enterprising chairman.

Among those serving as officers for the coming year are Mrs. George Oleson, Margaret O'Leary and Mary Ring. Others active in the club are Mrs. Paul Keating and Helen McCarthy, who were pourers at the recent tea.

Julia Clarke To Wed Soon

Julia Clarke, former president of the [illegible] Club, has chosen Saturday, November 12, as the date of her wedding to John Mantle of Charlestown. The ceremony will be followed by a large reception at the [illegible] Country Club.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, Owen Clarke, will have only one attendant, Helen Gallagher of Mattapan.

Julia is a graduate of Jamaica Plain High School and is a well-known member of the young set.

Plan Benefit Performance

Mrs. [illegible] M. [illegible] and Mrs. Frank W. [illegible] are members of the [illegible] committee making arrangements for a [illegible] on November [illegible] when the [illegible] Memorial Hospital sponsors the evening performance of the [illegible].

Mrs. Samuel K. [illegible], ticket [illegible], will be assisted in the advance sale, which opens today, by Mrs. Frank Barton, Mrs. Frances [illegible], Mrs. [illegible] Presbrey, Mrs. [illegible] Wood and Mrs. Herbert [illegible].

"The DOCTOR" by MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

Chris Arden Returns Rich Girl's Money

What Has Happened:

[illegible] Chris Arden completed his internship and [illegible] practice [illegible]. His first mistake was to rent an office and home from the shiftless Walters family but he had felt sorry for [illegible] Henry Walters and his drab, listless wife [illegible] the woman. His sympathy did not [illegible] [illegible] Katie and [illegible] son, Pat.

[illegible] Chris descends the stairs to his office [illegible] his one patient that morning. Beverly Lewis [illegible] the mansion on the hill, brings her terrier and apologetically [illegible] a bone from the dog's throat. Beverly [illegible] when Chris refuses to accept a fee.

[illegible] visits the hospital where he had trained. Its main support is Beverly's father, Staunton Lewis, local magnate and political [illegible]. Nettie Simpson, the old nurse in charge of the training school, loves Chris [illegible] son and gives him a royal welcome. She makes him promise to come to her should he need financial aid.

Next, Chris visits young Dr. Scott in the X-ray laboratory. The latter shows him an X-ray burn on his finger. Chris wonders if it is fair to Scott's family to have him jeopardize his health for science.

Now Continue:

CHAPTER FOUR

Doctor Arden was in rather a somber mood when he reached the house and the knowledge that his key in the door had caused some rapid, surreptitious motion in the hall inside, followed by the discovery that his waiting room was filled with smoke, made him scowl.

But he went white-lipped with anger when he found an envelope on his desk enclosing a ten-dollar bill and the single word, "Thanks."

He got an envelope of his own, placed the bill in it, and sealed it. Then, still stiff with resentment, he addressed and stamped it, and carried it out to the mailbox.

It was only on the way back that he suddenly laughed. He was thinking of Beverly Lewis when she received it the next morning.

Curiously enough that evening marked a red-letter day in Chris' life, a day which had nothing to do with the Walters', or even with a girl with a stubborn chin.

Between 8 and 9 two patients came in. One was the little seamstress from next door, who had run her machine needle through a finger.

"That's what I get for working on Sunday, Doctor."

"Nonsense! It's what you get for being overtired and careless."

The other was a [illegible]. The [illegible] except the total receipts for the day were $1 [illegible] by Miss [illegible], dressmaking and tailoring.

NEW COURAGE

However, he went [illegible] that night to his surgery [illegible] with considerable [illegible] door with [illegible].

He was [illegible] [illegible] [illegible].

That was before the World War.

It is a forgotten period now, as though the world had slept between the turn of the century and that August 14 years later; but it was in fact a transition era, with iron hitching posts still in the streets, with country roads being paved for the new automobiles which still scared the farm horses, with electric coupes slow and dignified among city traffic with their [illegible], with airplanes still clumsy but accomplishing flight, and with new machinery competing with hand labor and inevitably winning the battle.

It was to this world that Beverly Lewis had been formally presented the winter before, putting on her sheer white undergarments and her white taffeta petticoat, and then stepping into the dress which had been made for her in Paris, long and [illegible] and youthful, and looking anxiously at her reflection in the long mirror.

"I'M SCARED"

She was excited and a little frightened. This was the beginning of life and she knew very little about it. She had had four years of boarding school, could speak indifferent French, played good tennis and golf, was amiable but had her father's temper at times, and was [illegible] rather a lovely thing as she surveyed herself in the cheval glass that night under the admiring eyes of Martha, her mother's elderly maid.

"I'm scared, Martha."

"Nobody who looks as beautiful as you needs to be afraid," said Martha.

WEALTHY BEVERLY LEWIS dresses for debut. "I'm scared, Martha," she confesses to her maid. "Nobody who looks as beautiful as you needs to be afraid," the latter replies.

So she had gone down the stairs, her white [illegible] trailing behind her. The orchestra had come and was tuning up at the back of the hall and the drawing room looked strange, almost empty of furniture and banked with flowers.

For a moment she stood there alone, a little frightened. This was the beginning of life and it was like this, an empty room waiting to be filled.

Her flowers had gone to the hospital the next morning and a pretty young interne had [illegible] a rosebud and worn it all day.

"What's happened, Chris?" [illegible]

"I made my debut last night. Didn't you hear about it?"

Beverly had a successful season, as Staunton Lewis' daughter was sure to have, and at the end of it was heart-whole and [illegible] weary. [illegible] she [illegible] the spring [illegible] persisted.

His name was Jerry Ames but he was called Jerry [illegible]. For years to come she [illegible] to close her eyes to see him as he had been [illegible] [illegible] her with cheerful [illegible] [illegible] forest eyes, even that determined [illegible] chin of hers. She was a good playfellow, too.

"We're made for each other, Bev," [illegible].

"Is that your idea of marriage?" [illegible].

Sometimes he drank, and then he would be difficult to manage. Once she slapped him hard and he sulked for a day or two. Then he was back, devil-may-care as ever, and asking her to kiss the spot.

"Look," he said. "Right there, Mommy. Kiss it."

[illegible]

[illegible] which he had solemnly taken out of his pocket a small [illegible] and [illegible] she had tried to laugh.

He was irresistible in some ways, this Jerry Ames, handsome, rich [illegible] after his own fashion and [illegible] a number of [illegible] was [illegible] confronted her [illegible] after she had met Chris Arden.

"I don't [illegible] said. Bev. [illegible] work, I [illegible]."

"If that's what you call it. [illegible] at work, are you? Work at [illegible]."

"[illegible] and you [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]."

"I'm not sure that I do. [illegible] that way. I've tried to, Jerry."

"[illegible] Good God, if you have to try."

He had gone then with [illegible].

AN IRRESISTIBLE MAN

He liked the fact that she was difficult. It gave some excitement to the pursuit [illegible] had been easy for him, always [illegible] said. Never [illegible] irresistibly [illegible]

'Men With Wings' Thrills at Met

By PEGGY DOYLE

Expertly piloted by Producer-Director William A. Wellman, Paramount's cavalcade of the air, "Men With Wings," now unreeling on the Metropolitan screen, is a pushover for happy landings.

It is that Hollywood rarity, a picture that fulfills the promise of the advance promotion blurbs. And be you earthbound or air-minded, it's a certainty that it will communicate to you the thr[illegible] that keeps the intrepid fraternity of birdmen skyhigh.

"Men With Wings" has no notable box office names but it has everything a picture needs — a fine cast, a good story, a [illegible] blend of comedy, romance and tragedy, exceptional photographic beauty and eye-soothing [illegible] or tinting.

Technicolor, which [illegible] as easy on the eyes as it is in this picture, would seem to be an essential ingredient of an aviation picture [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] of the azure sky [illegible], white clouds, green earth and [illegible] sea give [illegible] panoramic beauty.

the three children growing older, the two youths boyishly revealing their love for the girl — and their interest in aviation becoming intensified. There are dramatic shots showing the advances in the newest mode of travel each unfailingly followed by amusing [illegible] showing the [illegible] editor's stubborn insistence of [illegible] playing local items as against [illegible] world-rocking news.

Fred MacMurray, Ray Milland and Louise Campbell play the three children grown up. MacMurray, the successful [illegible] the volatile, adventure-questing type of flier who must be up in the clouds. Milland, who [illegible] there when the girl they both [illegible] need the gallivanting MacMurray [illegible] the dependable [illegible] kerly scientific sort of a [illegible] whose experiments greatly aid the progress of air travel. Both give convincing [illegible] portrayals. Miss Campbell [illegible] in her first featured [illegible] A [illegible] where she belongs and we shall see more of her, no doubt. [illegible] [illegible] as [illegible] is as large [illegible] as usual. [illegible] as the [illegible] newspaper editor [illegible] Lynne Overman as the [illegible] assistant couldn't be better.

Producer-Director Wellman, who [illegible] to be an aviator himself [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] from now on.

Angus Wins Bride, Race Cup Missing

trophy itself, had disappeared.

[illegible] by [illegible] Halifax [illegible] valued at $1000.

"It was in a downtown department store window, the last thing we know," Race Director Hall explained.

"But when I sent for it today to bring it here to present to Captain Walters, the store people didn't have it.

"They said they'd delivered it at my office, a week ago. But nobody in my office ever got it.

INSURED FOR $500

"Maybe it's a joke. But the cup is missing. If it doesn't turn up today, we'll notify police. It's insured for $500. This is serious business."

Captain Angus, [illegible] to the collar of a gray and [illegible] shirt, was [illegible] words.

"What do they mean, the cup's missing?" he demanded. "They better find it, that's all. My government's going to have something to say about this."

But worse news still was in store for Skipper Walters.

CLAIMS $3000 DUE

He was [illegible] that the $3000 prize money he expected to pocket today wasn't ready for him.

As he figured it [illegible] $3000 coming. That [illegible] $1000 for back expenses and the $2000 as a purse.

"Looks like there's got to be some compromise," a representative of the committee said, apologetically.

"Compromise, my aged aunt!" stormed Angus.

"I'm already $15,000 out of pocket on these long drawn-out, mismanaged, landsman-steered races.

"We'll adjust the matter of expenses, if adjustment is necessary. But I'll get my $3000 prize money or there'll be trouble popping.

'LET 'EM RAISE IT'

"If they haven't got it, let 'em raise it. They'd better find that money somehow.

"If it isn't paid me, for my crew, it'll be a long year before the United States can ever hold its head up again in international sports."

No wonder Angus was mad. He wanted his share of that prize [illegible]

He also [illegible] on a [illegible]

[illegible]

The Halifax [illegible] dark-haired [illegible] Butler.

"She's as trim a craft as ever gladdened a sailorman's eye," Cap'n Angus boasted.

"Here's her picture, nailed snug and fast right to my cabin wall.

"I guess the lass was our mascot, in the race series against Ben Pine's Thebaud.

"Not that Bluenose needed any luck charm. Give us wind to sail with, and we could go by anything out of Gloucester with our anchor chain dragging.

"But I don't mind admitting I didn't want to have to telegraph bad news back to the gal in Halifax.

"She was rooting for us, from start to finish.

SETS AGE AT 30

"How old is she? Well, I never asked her. But you put it at 30 and you won't be many points off course.

"Nope, I wasn't exactly racing to win a bride. She agreed to have me, win or lose.

"Still, my share of that prize money—if and when I get it—will help pay for the New York world's fair honeymoon we're planning.

"Some stories have been coming to me about how the Boston and Gloucester committee raising money for the races wouldn't have enough in the kitty to give the cash prizes they promised.

"But today's the day we're going to have it out, with decks cleared, at committee headquarters right here in Boston.

SAILS TOMORROW

"Cash or no cash, I up anchor tomorrow at sunrise. I'll have to put in at Gloucester to get the rest of my gear.

"Then it's out with the tide, bright and early Saturday, and I'll put Bluenose on as straight a course as the chart will let us for Halifax—and the future Mrs. Walters!"

Skipper Angus' announcement of his matrimonial plans was made today at the East Boston shipyard where he tied up the Bluenose last night, after her triumphant win in the final and deciding race for the International Fishermen's Trophy.

FACE PRIZE PROBLEM

Betty di Pesa, Boston Evening American reporter, obtained exclusive confirmation of Cap'n Angus romance.

Contrastingly unromantic was the scene staged a little later in the offices of the Maritime Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce.

There Gloucester and Boston members of the committee [illegible] with raising funds to defray expenses of the [illegible] were facing a problem [illegible] couldn't [illegible]

They hadn't any $3000 to [illegible] Skipper Angus in prize money.

FIGHTS FOR CREW

Nor did they have an [illegible] $2000 to pay the promised [illegible] Captain Ben Pine [illegible] Thebaud crew.

They did have some mo[illegible]

A substantial sum, one member of the committee called [illegible]

But they had bills to pay [illegible]

And expected to be on hand for an accounting were Cap'n P[illegible] person, and choleric Cap'n A[illegible]

Cap'n Angus was a triple [illegible]

For he was fighting for himself, his crew—and the girl in Halifax.

PROFITABLE NEWS FOR BUYERS and SELLERS

MONEY TO LOAN

THOUSANDS BORROW MONEY FROM THIS MAN

The Manager of the Malden Office MR. ROY SHOREY

They Like the Friendly, Easy, Business-like Way He Gives Them Cash!

● Nothing cold or stern about the gentleman above — in fact you'd go a long way before you found a chap more friendly, pleasant and understanding.

● He's typical of the men who manage the neighborhood offices of the Personal Finance Company — which helps explain why 776,000 people borrowed money from us last year, giving us the title of America's most popular loan company.

If you need from $25 to $300 he'll be glad to help you get it. Won't ask tiresome questions, either — or bore you with needless red tape. Just a few necessary facts, and as soon as your application is approved, he'll have your money ready. ●

There's a man just like him at each of our 14 local offices, listed below. If you need money, stop by! You don't have to ask a friend to sign your note, nor do you have to own real estate or an automobile. You can get your loan quickly — and quietly!

Halt New U. S. Tax Levies

Copyright, 1938

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (INS)—President Roosevelt has [illegible] recommendation from [illegible] advisers to defer plans for new taxes at the coming session of Congress, in view of [illegible] revenues due to improved business conditions.

The present income tax rate structure will yield sufficient revenue to balance the budget in the fiscal year 1941 if business continues to improve at the present rate, the Chief Executive was informed. [illegible]

Strong Forces Aid Building

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW
Financial Editor

The building industry is now asserting the leadership recovery lacked in its lamented efforts of 1936-37. And a survey of the outlook promises a successful and probably protracted reign.

Anal[illegible]

If Wednesday is going to represent a typical "sellers" day then those long of stock have nothing to fear for the present. After an opening hour of large volume, most of contributed by a small stock that rose, transactions steadily dwindled for the balance of the session.

That there was an urge to take profits on the part of some can not be denied. But it very obviously was not pressing, nor widespread.

If those who are bearishly inclined can not do better than their latest performance indicates we would buy reactions. And with building shares getting a fair correction concentrate in them, with emphasis on material suppliers.

The steels also must be remembered and don't forget that it has been years since this group's dependence on automotive and rail demand could be shared by building needs.

Boston After Dark

By GEORGE HOLLAND

THE MOST EXCITING CABARET premiere of the new season happened last night at the Mayfair . . . It was "welcome home" night to Joe Rines, the Boston band-leader who has become nationally-known since he worked last at the popular spot . . . Of equal importance, the night marked the professional debut of six happy youngsters . . . The six most accomplished jitterbugs in New England . . .

GEORGE HOLLAND

They were the winners Monday night at the Fall Frolics, in aid of the Boston American Christmas Basket Fund, at the Garden . . . If you happen to be told by a friend that customers stood up and cheered at the finish of Marjorie and Jimmy Grinley's great dancing, do not dispute the story . . . It actually happened last night.

The very essence of jitterbuggin' is speed . . . And a fast surrounding show has been staged by George Libby, the Mayfair's producer . . . Dorothy Blaine has the vocalizing assignment . . . She has come from a [illegible] engagement at the New Yorker . . .

She was received so cordially last night that Miss Blaine, a blues singer, could match the length of her New York engagement without wearing out her welcome here . . . A gentleman named Paul Gordon who rides a bicycle in a way you have never seen it ridden before, is another feature of the jitterbug show . . .

Former Heavyweight Champion Jack Dempsey, by the way, was a ringsider at the Mayfair's premiere . . . The ropes were out early, and the two-week engagement of Mr. Rines, the jitterbugs et al should prove another record-breaking bill for the Mayfair . . .

Human Interest Stuff:

[illegible] with the jitterbugs subject you will be interested [illegible] is a very [illegible] person these nights at the New York [illegible] Manana . . . He owns the manager [illegible] contract of [illegible] No. 1" Hutton . . . Both Miss Hutton and her [illegible] Billy Rose were anxious to [illegible] the sweet [illegible] Monday night . . . Billy agreed to release [illegible] Betty [illegible] Boston and perform with Benny Goodman's [illegible] . . . Lopez [illegible] was something else again . . .

[illegible] Miss Hutton appear here for the [illegible] Sophie Tucker [illegible] and Betty [illegible] Basket Fund [illegible]

Ruby Foo was so sincere in trying to protect the small foundling who is domiciled at her Boston home, that she pleaded with most of her friends in the newspaper business to skip the story . . . Ruby's customary affability was missing when reporters and cameramen and newsreelmen besieged her home . . . For that matter Ruby was missing, too . . . She held to her room, and wept when the boys refused to be denied . . .

Lyle Talbot's Burns Not to End Career

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 27 (AP) Actor Lyle Talbot, who saved his friend, Franklin D. Parker, from death in a fire which damaged the Talbot home, was improving today but physicians said Parker was not responding to treatment.

Talbot's physician, Dr. Jerry Jo[illegible]ney, said the actor's burns would not prevent his return to the screen.

Wage Pointers On Exemptions

Queries on the new wages and hours law should be addressed to the Wages and Hours Editor, Boston Evening American, Winthrop square.

Please remember the ONLY questions which will be answered by this department are those WRITTEN ON ONE SIDE OF THE PAPER, CLEARLY, BRIEFLY STATED. Do not telephone.

Thousands of letters have been received and each day this department selects one letter which answers the question of many hundreds who have occupational differences but who are asking the same question.

Those enclosing stamped self-addressed envelopes will be answered as soon as possible providing their questions meet the above requirements.

Q—I am 17, have worked in a department store for a year. Many of my friends (all clerks) work from 40 to 56 hours a week, but make more than 25 cents an hour. My employers buy goods from manufacturers who engage in interstate commerce. Are we affected by the law?—S. N. B., Pittsfield.

A—No.

Q—What, in a nutshell, are the exemptions?—B. S., New Hampton, N. H.

A. Exemptions are made for persons not affected by the wage and hours law. The exemptions are:

Executives (bona fide), persons employed in administrative, professional or local retailing capacity, or "outside salesmen."

[illegible]

Any person EXEMPTED FROM THE LAW [illegible]

Any employe engaged in any [illegible] GREATER PART of whose [illegible] is in INTRA-state [illegible]

All seamen.

Any person catching, taking [illegible] or farming of any kind of fish.

Agricultural workers.

Employes of street, suburban or interurban railway.

N. B. LEARNERS, APPRENTICES and HANDICAPPED WORKERS, and those affected by the regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission defined in the law are EXEMPT under [illegible] conditions.

Other persons exempt are those HANDLING, PACKING, STORING, CANNING, PASTEURIZING [illegible] of cheese and butter, dairy products, etc.

Q—If I work for one employer 40 hours and for another 20 hours in the same week does the second employer pay straight time or MUST he pay overtime rate? Suppose employer No. 2 does not know of employer No. 1, does that exempt him from paying overtime rate?

A. Both employers pay straight time. You must be paid overtime by any one employer if you go above 44 hours.

H. C. Doctor Prescribes For Colgate's Ailment

DR. EDDIE ANDERSON, THE YOUNG oral surgeon, who conducts Holy Cross' weekly football clinics, hopes to perform another successful operation on Colgate this week-end. The Doctor has diagnosed the patient's symptoms as a chronic running attack, with lateral-pass complications and itchy feet. The only known antidote, he says, is to etherize the patient with high tackling.

AUSTIN LAKE

Now, any practicing pigskin physician will say that high-tackling is not recommended as a means of reducing swelling scores. In fact, high tackling is one way to start a touchdown epidemic. But the Doctor thinks this calls for a special kind of therapy. He recalls how he lost a case of Colgate-itis a few years back by low-tackling and the patient spewed laterals all over the stadium until the fever chart rose 20 points to his nothing.

So the Dr. is instructing his H. C. operatives to apply cold compresses around the Colgate ball carriers' arms lest they break out in another rash of laterals.

"Grab high," says the Doc, "grab often and, above all, grab hard."

It will take some doing, because the Doc has previously been teaching [illegible] method of tackling at the knees with a full arm-lock and plenty of body tortion. But this week he has instructed:

"Hit em high on the thorax and see if you can't extract the ball by applying the fingers . . . so' and yanking . . . so'"

Nothing purges lateral passing like a good fumble.

This sort of treatment was successful last year when H. C.'s husky male nurses clamped onto Colgate, belting 'em high, and fashioned tourniquets about the ball toters' arms. So presently the invalid was convalescing, cured of what ailed it, with a big 12-7 plaster on its fundament. Which comes of having the right kind of [illegible].

Orchids to Cornelius

THE OTHER DAY WHEN HE WAS awarded a membership card in the "Three-quarter Century Club," a national organization of men who have attained 75 years or more, Connie Mack said gracefully, "I'd like to live it again. It was great fun."

From that remark you will know what sort of life old Connie has led. For no man with the hounds of remorse on his eldering heels, looks backward down the corridor of the years with pleasure. Such men avert their eyes lest shadows come to mock them from the past.

On December 23, Connie will be 77. He is the one great exception to the sporting rule; that to have friends requires the making of enemies. And though he began in the time which made John McGraw, Ben Johnson, Kid Gleason and the rest of the uproarious company of rough and tumble immortals, Connie never slugged any chins or screamed any profanities or committed any hooliganisms in the day when it was accepted custom to hold crockery smashes in hotels, or kidnap hacks for wild chases through the street.

The hates of McGraw, the knuckle fights of Gleason, the feuds and wrangles of Johnson, had no part in the scheme of Connie's life. He controlled his players, who were no finer or tougher than the rest, by quiet dignity. They feared his worst rebuke, "You are not doing your best," more than another manager's blaspheme ranting or free-hand busts on the nose. His spirit, still sound, occupies a body becoming frail.

Time has bleached from him the colors of his youth. But time has also etched on his clerical features the record of well-spent life—the parenthetical lines beside his mouth, the withered but level slant of his jaw, the faded, but quiet blue eyes. In six words he has summed up the history of 76 years, "I'd like to live it again."

Peg to Hang Hope On

NEXT SATURDAY HARVARD celebrates the third anniversary of its spiritual rebirth. For it was against Princeton in 1936 that Bob Stuart's twilight touchdown and Charley Allen's goal-kick gave Harvard a miracle tie. It ended the era of the Great Apathy which began, approximately, in 1925, when precocious kids like Dolph Cheek were preaching the gospel of boredom and coining the opiate-word "Overemphasis."

With that 1936 game the cycle of Harvard boredom ended, the

It appears that each of the Caseys has a man-sized job in front of him tonight. Steve's foe, The Sheik, for example, has not lost a bout on a Boston mat for more than two years, and it is doubtful if the Crusher, as strong as he is, has anything in this respect on the black bearded gent.

The Sheik is a professional strong man and at the world's fair in Chicago he won enough medals to start in business.

Jim Casey's opponent, Zaharias, is a skilled performer, but on top of that he is what is known as a mat villian. Speedy and clever, he is always willing to start a brawl or any kind of dirty work. Jim says he did not meet many "bad men" in European wars, so the experience may be too much for him.

Wallis, foe of Tom Casey, is also a fast, [illegible]

Crimson Passing Ace on Sidelines

Harvard this afternoon finishes its heavy work in preparation for Saturday's tilt with Princeton.

Tomorrow the Crimson will have but a light limbering up drill as it shares Stadium practice time with the Tigers, who'll roll in from New Jersey shortly after noon.

Coach Dick Harlow had expected to have all his charges fit to play in this first of the 1938 "Big Three" classics, but his hopes were blasted yesterday.

Bob Burnett, second-string wingback and left-handed passing ace, is lost to the squad for an indefinite period with a sprained ankle suffered when he tripped over a curbstone in front of his dormitory.

Burnett's mishap means that [illegible] Macdonald must play through against the Tigers without relief [illegible] Joe Gardella who will start [illegible] fullback [illegible] at the wingback post.

Despite this last minute blow the Crimson coaches and players continue to be optimistic over their chances of gaining their first win of the year at the expense of Tad Wieman's Orange and Black gridders.

At the same time Princeton stock soars to a new high with the announcement that Bob Jackson, star quarterback who had been a casualty, had fully recovered and would start against the Harlow-Yards.

Oddly enough, as it was learned that Burnett was lost to the Crimson and that Jackson would perform for the Tigers, betting commissions, who had been offering even money on the game, suddenly installed Harvard as an 8 to 5 favorite.

C.L.S.-Nashua Tilt Tomorrow Night

Cambridge Latin's football team will play under the lights at Nashua, N. H., tomorrow evening, instead of on Saturday as originally planned.

This will be the second time the Latinites have played under the arcs this season, and they hope for better luck than they had with Somerville in the opening game of the season.

boys became indifferent toward indifference. In fact that day the Harvards rared back on their concrete inclines and made up several decades of back yelling in a space of a few minutes. And when the game ended they tumbled down and let go some rusty curly wolf howls.

Then a year ago, come Saturday, at Princeton, the Harvards made their first real emergence from football's doghouse by licking the Tigers 34 to 6. And then the Harvards went stumbling around the stadium floor, shaking rattles, blowing horns and yelling Ray-Ray-Ray.

It was evident from the maniacal glint in their eyes that they wished to revert to the true college type and be just boys again cheering school heroes with genuine and spontaneous yells. So Princeton has been a big factor in Harvard's football re-awakening and a kind of annual peg on which to hang hope.

Novice Bouts at All-America Show ¦ Other Classes for Veteran Amateurs

By JACK CONWAY

THE COMMITTEE in charge of the Hearst All-America amateur boxing championships that open at the Arena on November 7 with four sets of trial contests used excellent judgment in deciding to have classes for novices as well as for the more experienced punch flingers.

Mr. Boston

There will be bouts for novices in the eight championship classes, 112, 118, 126, 135, 147, 160 and 175 pounds and in the heavyweight division. These are the same classes that are being held for the experienced boxers.

Amateur boxers in any part of New England are eligible to compete in the Hearst All-America tournament which is the greatest show of its kind held in the United States. Last year the Hearst All-America bouts attracted 50,000 persons to the Arena and to the Garden, and furnished brilliant competition.

The novice classes in this year's show will add spice to the big tournament. Youngsters eager to smash their way to the top always furnish action. What they may lack in ring polish they will more than make up for in earnestness.

Many of the former Hearst All-America champions have already made names for themselves in the professional ring. Similar opportunities will be offered to the youngsters who will be competitors in this year's show.

The trial bouts will be held at the Arena on November 7, November 14, November 21 and November 28. The New England finals will be dropped in at the Garden on December 5, while the All-Eastern finals will be held at the Garden on December 12. In the All-Eastern finals there will be teams from New England, New York, Albany, Syracuse and Baltimore.

The survivors in the All-Eastern finals will later compete in the grand national finals which will be held in Detroit in January.

Eddie Hurley Memorial

THE EDDIE HURLEY Memorial wrestling show at the Garden tonight will be a special tribute to one of the finest characters that ever wrote sports in Boston. Paul Bowser was anxious to pay fitting recognition to Eddie's memory on account of what the latter had done for wrestling and other sports as well as for the strong bond of friendship that had existed between the two.

The show itself should be a thrilling one. With the three Caseys, Steve, Jim and Tom, on the card, the affair has color and should furnish stirring action.

Steve Casey, one of the most powerful wrestlers to ever step into a ring, will risk his title against The Sheik. While Steve is favored to win. The Sheik has the necessary ability to extend big Steve to the limit.

I am particularly interested in seeing Jim in action. He is a big, handsome fellow, and a natural athlete. He has tremendous color, and is certain to make a hit with the crowd.

Jim will have Babe Zaharas as an opponent in what should furnish a rugged bout.

Tom Casey will be the third member of the Casey family to appear on tonight's card. Tom has done some boxing as well as wrestling. He will have Jim Wallis of Holy Cross as an opponent.

The show has clicked with the public which is anxious to see the three sturdy Casey brothers in action. Later Steve, Jim and Tom will be joined by Paddy who was delayed in sailing to the United States by a cold.

I'll be looking forward to seeing you tonight at the Garden.

Public Is Rooting for Harvard

THE PUBLIC IS rooting for Harvard to win over Princeton in their clash at the Stadium on Saturday. The Crimson has played hard, fast football this fall, but hasn't got any of the breaks.

Harvard was entitled to win from the Army, while a few breaks would have given it a win over Dartmouth.

Dick Harlow has refused to become dicouraged under four defeats. He can finish his season in a blaze of glory if his team can defeat Princeton, Chicago and Yale.

Harvard is an even money betting choice to win from Princeton. Personally I believe the Crimson will score its first victory of the season on Saturday, and I know that everybody who has seen the Crimson in its courageous stands in the Stadium this season will be rooting for it to tie a few knots in the tail of the Tigers.

I am still stringing along with Dartmouth to win from Yale, while if you were to ask me who I liked in the Army-Notre Dame game in New York I would have to call for three cheers for the Irish. It won't be necessary for the referee to give the Army quarterback the wrong number of downs for Notre Dame to win.

From what I have seen of Army teams they are too smart not to know the number of downs. Football players should not have to rely upon officials for the number of downs and the score.

M. I. T. Sophs Have Field Day

Sports war will be officially declared at M.I.T. tomorrow afternoon when the freshmen and sophomores stage their annual Field Day struggle for supremacy with nothing barred.

Battling for the high point total, these two classes will send their best into events such as crew, football, dinghy races, 12 man relay, glove fight and the tug of war as a grand windup.

The reward for a sophomore victory is just pride in being able to subdue the upstart freshmen and the second year lads have been successful in their quest every fall except in '37.

Those freshmen of last year are now out to prevent the yearlings from duplicating. A triumph for the first year men means they win the right to discard those dreaded cardinal and gray ties which single them out as lowly frosh.

Note to Tony Lazzeri: San Francisco: Is it the Brownies or an American Association spot you have your eyes on, signor? And can it be you're just a leetle bit sorry about turning down Ossie Vitt's offer of a job with the Indians last season?

That's quite a trick the Minnesota coaches use for finding out when a groggy player should come out of a half game. They ask him, so the story goes, "Who's your coach?" If he answers "Bernie Bierman," he stays in. If he says "Ben Bernie, they yank him out pronto.

Bernie Bierman

Cornell's Carl Snively is so perturbed about those reports he'll be coaching on the Pacific coast next year that he's issuing an official denial. But his contract at Ithaca is up next year; UCLA is rumored looking for a new boss—So-o-o-o . . . Minnesota is grooming a sprint candidate for the 1940 Olympics in Bob Johnson, snappy stepper from Sioux Falls, S. D. . . . Eddie Mean sounds serious about kicking over the traces with Mike Jacobs' promotion so that he can give Henry Armstrong more action. He wants the little colored man with the big fists to go to the post about once a month so he can keep in tip-top shape . . . What's this about Marshall College putting a standing offer of 10 G's on the line if West Virginia is willing to tangle with 'em this year or next?

* * *

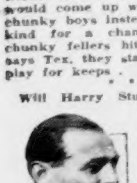

Sh-h-h—the secret's out. The reason Louisiana State let Tulane grab ball-carrying Bob Kellog was (1) 'cause he's married and the Tigers turn thumbs down on benedicts . . . and (2) he played a year of junior college ball, so LSU heads decided 'twouldn't be worth while developing a player just for two years' work . . . Carnegie and Notre Dame played one of the hardest games of the year—and one of the cleanest . . . only one 15-yard penalty for roughness, against the Irish . . .

The rave notices for Hammerin' Hennery Armstrong's 55 kayoes in 59 bouts sort of overlook the fact that Caferino Garcia, who'll fight the Hammer for the welterweight crown next Wednesday, is a pretty fair sleepmaker, too. He's put the Crusher on 11 of his last 12 starts—and that's par for the course in any league . . . Tex Oliver wishes his Oregon football squad would come up with some of the chunky boys instead of the rangy kind for a change. When the chunky fellers hit the other guy, says Tex, they stay hit . . . They play for keeps . . .

Will Harry Stuhldreher kindly give us the low-down on that six - foot - nine footballer, Don Timmerman, who, they say, will be heard from later at Wisconsin? . . . When it comes to real training regulations, take a look at John Jacobs, Oklahoma's cross-country coach. John carries iced milk from the same cow on all the Sooners' trips—and isn't satisfied with substitutes.

'Ringer' Exposed At Laurel

LAUREL, Md., Oct. 27 (AP)—The Maryland Racing Commission climaxed a long, secret investigation today with the announcement it was convinced the horse which raced in Maryland as the five-year-old James A. is really the four-year-old Play Pal.

Jervis Spencer, Jr., chairman of the commission, said the horse would be permitted to race at Pimlico but only under his real name, Play Pal.

He said the commission had no proof as to when the switch in names was made and for the present there would be no rulings against any persons who have owned or trained the two horses.

He said he believed the horse had been a "ringer" since last Nov. 11.

Tom Mott, Sr., of Washington, is the present owner of Play Pal and Matt Smart is the trainer.

The commission began the investigation after the horse entered as "James A." beat Sun Egret, Bull Whip, and other good sprinters at Delaware Park last July 7.

Trainer R. L. Hanna said he claimed the real James A. as James A. for Mrs. E. B. Gilkes at Tropical Park, Fla. Mott bought the horse from Hanna.

Henry's Punch Changes Odds

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP)—Henry Armstrong still can drop 'em.

The light and welterweight champion, who is working out in the Hippodrome for his defense of the heavier title against Ceferino Garcia, is hitting with such authority and moving with such smoothness the gamblers are revising their odds for next Wednesday's 15-round bout.

Henry explains it this way:

"I built myself up for three title fights. I was tired and stale. Now I am rested. I feel good and strong."

The other day he dropped Bucky Jones with a short right hook that didn't travel more than ten inches. When Jones got up he stayed away.

Garcia was the favorite when the betting opened, but it is pretty even now. Ceferino is banging his spar boys with great vim over in Stillman's but he has not shortended his punches.

Two Brown Players Rest in Infirmary

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 27 (AP)—Two Brown regulars were in the college infirmary as the Bears continued preparations for next week-end's game here with Tufts. Don McNeil, husky tackle, was down with a cold which the attending physician was afraid might turn into influenza.

John O'Leary, halfback, who suffered a hard blow on the head in the R. I. State game last Saturday, suffered a relapse and was confined to the infirmary.

School Scoring Sensation

Kingsport, Tenn., Oct. 27 (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Bobby Cifers, 185-pound triple threat star on the Kingsport high school football team appear today to be headed toward national high school scoring honors for the year.

With four more games to play, he already has run up 166 points in seven games, 25 touchdowns and 16 points after from placement.

Friends say he has an excellent chanceto exceed the 211 points scored for Austin High, Chicago, last year by Bill de Correvont, who is now a freshman at Northwestern University.

Cifer's touchdown jaunts range from 85 yards down to straight line smashes near the goal. He also does most of the team's kicking and passing.

His punts have avaraged around 40 yards and in 51 passes he hit the mark 24 times for a total of 264 yards. His ground gains from scrimmage amount to 1717 yards.

His most brilliant performance came against Jacksonville when he recorded six touchdowns and kicked three points after.

Pat Hanley Says:

Pitfall Ahead For Pittsburgh

By L. B. "PAT" HANLEY
Head Coach at Boston University

This coming week-end looms as one of the most important football week-ends of the year.

The halo of invincibility which has been woven around such wonder teams as Pittsburgh, Dartmouth, Minnesota and Tennessee may be shattered.

Pittsburgh and Dartmouth are rated as the class of the East while Tennessee with five victories including a win over Alabama is tops in the South and, of course, Minnesota is king of the mid-West.

On Saturday, each of these clubs faces what can easily prove to be a tartar. Pittsburgh has Fordham; Dartmouth meets Yale; Tennessee tackles L. S. U., and Minnesota has Northwestern.

3-YEAR DEADLOCK

Looking at the Pittsburgh-Fordham game for a moment, one can't help but realize that here's a clash between two mighty machines.

For the past three years, these clubs played scoreless ties and the same can happen again.

Pittsburgh backfield is brilliant. Any team boasting backs such as Goldberg, Cassiano, Chickerneo and Stebbins must be accorded a high figure.

Down at New Haven, they are rating Dartmouth, undefeated for over two years, as the favorite and that is as it should be but the Bulldogs have found themselves.

Yale floundered but Gil Humphrey has come to life and this spark lifted Yale right up the ladder. The Blues victory over Navy and their brilliant game against Michigan, rated with the ten best teams in the country, are indications.

Dartmouth seems to be bogging down, judging from their play in last two games.

Benny Bierman's Minnesota outfit receives its first real test from Northwestern Saturday. The Gophers have not been too impressive but by virtue of raw power they have downed Washington, Nebraska, Purdue and Michigan.

Even though their victories have been skimpy, the fact remains that, like all great teams, the Gophers have come through when the pressure has been greatest.

LIKE MINNESOTA

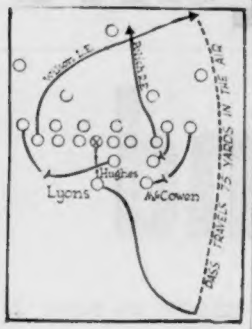

For that reason I'm stringing along with Minnesota despite the Wildcats' performance against Ohio State.

I look for an upset down South and expect to see L. S. U. push Tennessee out of the undefeated class and off the top of the Southern Conference.

The Vols must have a great club in view of their triumph over Alabama but the Tigers, after their opening game loss, recovered quickly and have been rolling like champions ever since.

These four games are the most vital as far as national rating is concerned and there may be new figures brought forth by statisticians after these battles are concluded.

FAMOUS PLAYS

Completed by Loyola against Villanova. Lyons received the ball from a regular Notre Dame shift formation, and faded far back to his right much in the manner of Brick Mueller in his heydey with California. Left End Wilson toured the five western states through Villanova backfield and when deep down the field turned just in time to take Lyons' heave. The gain of 65 yards and the ball was 75 yards in the air.

Gainer, Lewis Ready for Bell

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Oct. 27 (INS)—Both Light Heavyweight Champion John Henry Lewis and Challenger Al Gainer, local Negro, today were declared to be in perfect condition by their managers for their title bout her tomorrow night.

Under the new Connecticut boxing rules three judges, selected from the state staff of referees, will decide the outcome of the contest.

Previously a lone referee in the ring has been sole judge of matches.

Marquette Bans Benedicts

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 27 (AP)—Married athletes will be barred from future competition on Marquette University intercollegiate teams, Athletic Director Conrad M. Jennings announced today.

The rule, passed by the athletic board last month but unrevealed until now, is not retroactive.

Married athletes now on Marquette varsity rosters include Edward Burke, Negro high jumper and co-captain of the 1939 track squad, and the following football players: Herbert Anderson, end; Carl Siefert, tackle, and John Maltsch, halfback.

They are not affected by the rule.
